George's Helping Hand requires directors, officers, and employees to observe high standards of business and personal ethics in the conduct of their duties and responsibilities. As representatives of George's Helping Hand, we must practice honesty and integrity in fulfilling our responsibilities and comply with all applicable laws and regulations.

Reporting Responsibility

This whistleblower policy is intended to encourage and enable officers and others to raise serious concerns internally so that George's Helping Hand can address and correct inappropriate conduct and actions. It is the responsibility of all board members, officers, employees, and volunteers to report concerns about violations of George's Helping Hand's code of ethics or suspected violations of law or regulations that govern George's Helping Hand's operations.

No Retaliation

It is contrary to the values of George's Helping Hand for anyone to retaliate against any board member, officer, employee, or volunteer who in good faith reports an ethics violation, or a suspected violation of law, such as a complaint of discrimination, or suspected fraud, or suspected violation of any regulation governing the operations of George's Helping Hand. An employee who retaliates against someone who has reported a violation in good faith is subject to discipline up to and including termination of employment.

Reporting Procedure

George's Helping Hand has an open-door policy and suggests that employees share their questions, concerns, suggestions or complaints with their supervisor. If you are not comfortable speaking with your supervisor or you are not satisfied with your supervisor's response, you are encouraged to speak with anyone on the Board. Supervisors and managers are required to report complaints or concerns about suspected ethical and legal violations in writing to the George's Helping Hand's board who has the responsibility to investigate all reported complaints. Employees with concerns or complaints may also submit their concerns in writing directly to their supervisor or the Executive Director.
